Experience

Freelance UX/UI Designer — Parsd

July 2026 - Present

Design consulting for Parsd, an early-stage AI startup. Analysed their website and digital product and produced structured recommendation reports evaluating usability and design against user and business goals.

UX Research & Design — KTH

January 2025 - April 2026

Thesis Project, applying user-centered design to the data visualization tools used to monitor and control the power grid. Identified a lack of user-centered evaluation methods in the domain through a literature review, then designed and built a power grid simulation controllable via two distinct interfaces. Compared the interfaces in a study with 16 participants, finding that interface design meaningfully shaped operators' decision-making strategies.
